12. Take 16 Brewing Company

509 E Main St., Luverne, MN 56156
(866) 663-9986
take16beer.com
facebook.com/take16brew
twitter.com/take16beer

Take 16 Brewing Company is making beers worth seeking out. Even better, Take 16 is truly a project for and by the community. Founded by a group of friends, the brewery was funded by 60 community investors and a volunteer board of directors and has brought new life to Luverne's bustling downtown.

The social aspect of the winery has always appealed to Scott and Jenny Ellenbecker, owners of Round Lake Vineyards & Winery. They also liked how their kids—who were teenagers when they started the winery—could learn about responsibility while enjoying a family "hobby." Today, they're the largest winery-vineyard operation in Minnesota. "With rolling hills covered with vines in one direction and a lake in the other, we have a beautiful and unique place," Scott said. "Southwest Initiative Foundation gave us a boost to be a destination winery for more than drinking wine."

AS BREWERIES AND WINERIES continue to up the ante with new facilities, recipes and events, and new shops pop up around them, you may be surprised to discover all there is to see and do. From tastings, tours, and special events to delicious food, live music, and gift shops stocked with unique goods, these locations should not be missed. You'll find locals and tourists, old-timers and newcomers, bikers and bicyclists gathering to build relationships, honor our roots, and enjoy distinct recipes that reflect our local communities.

We hope you'll explore southwest Minnesota - one glass at a time. Our handy map will help you find the way.

Events like Hop Fest hosted by SWIF's Business Finance client Brau Brothers Brewing Co. in Marshall provide local fun for entire families. Wineries and breweries are also attracting younger employees, like the Brau Brothers staff, and providing them with good jobs in our communities.

Brau Brothers Brewing Co. is a destination that can't be missed. After Brau Brothers outgrew their space in Lucan, SWIF's Business Finance Program provided a loan for them to expand into a new location in Marshall. Enjoy food in their taproom along with their signature beer drawn directly from a converted Lucan fire truck. You may be familiar with their Hundred Yard Dash, but the Brau taproom has brews unavailable anywhere else. Ask about the beers made with their own house-grown hops!

Sitting on land that has been in the family for four generations, what once was a soybean field has been transformed into a 7-acre vineyard with 4,200 vines of 11 varieties of grape. It's a stunning location that comes with wonderful wine and homemade pizza with its own cult following.

Homebrewer-turned-entrepreneur Ryan Fuchs and his wife Liv opened Foxhole Brewhouse in August. They're located in downtown Willmar's Historic 313 building, a project SWIF supported through our Business Finance Program.

In 2007, Ron and Kim Wothe began Glacial Ridge Winery, located at the home of Jimmy Appleseed Orchard near Spicer, and have worked with our Microenterprise Loan Program for multiple business expansions. They were named the 2015 Spicer Business of the Year for their community impact.
